

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections on telemarketing/unwanted calls. Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law has improved our overall time at home. It's enjoyable to come home and not receive unwanted calls--basically going without harassment from 15 calls a night. It is vital to citizens of Indiana that this law remain as is.